interact with them on social media, comment on their blog posts, introduce yourself to them at an event, and help them get to know you if they could put discount code banners for their businesses on his web pages, and then pay him a commission